Pictured on the cover is 57 Ways to Protect Your Home Environment—a 1997 Critique and Awards Program, Class 3 gold winner for "writing within a specialized publication."

This 300-page book includes 57 concise, practical chapters on ways to cut back or eliminate pesticide use in the home and yard; recycle and dispose of household waste, yard waste, and hazardous chemicals; reduce the risk of indoor contaminants; create a beautiful and diverse landscape; and conserve energy and water. The book also features profiles of people and organizations that have put these ideas into practice, including one recycle-wise New York family that takes out the garbage only once every five years.

Doug Peterson, communications specialist with the University of Illinois, wrote the book and coordinated the project. He worked with more than forty specialists from several universities and state organizations and with Mic Greenburg, a technical illustrator who produced more than 80 two-color illustrations, in addition to the four-color cover.

57 Ways is part of the "This Land" series of books. The first book in the series, 50 Ways Farmers Can Protect Their Groundwater, was published in 1993 and also won a gold award for writing. The third book, 60 Ways Farmers Can Protect Surface Water, came off the press in September of this year. To order copies of these books, call (800) 345-6087.

The Journal of Applied Communications is indexed and abstracted in ERIC's Current Index to Journals in Education (CIJE) and is listed in Ulrich's International Periodicals Directory, March 1997.

Publishing Policy and Instructions for Contributors

Journal of Applied Communications, Vol. 81, Iss. 1 (1997), p. 1

PURPOSE STATEMENT: The Journal of Applied Communications is a quarterly, refereed journal offering professional development for educational communicators who emphasize agriculture, the food industry, and natural resources.

What We Look For

The Journal of Applied Communications is a peer-reviewed journal. It welcomes original contributions from any author, although priority may be given to ACE members, should manuscripts of comparable quality be available. First consideration will be given to theoretical and applied articles of direct value to ACE members. Such articles might include formal research, survey or trend pieces, analyses, how-to-articles, and opinion pieces. (Reviews below.)

All submitted manuscripts are considered for publication. However, prospective contributors are encouraged to be aware of the focus of this journal and manuscript requirements. A manuscript is accepted with the understanding that the Journal of Applied Communications has exclusive publication rights, which means that the manuscript has not been submitted concurrently, accepted for publication, or published elsewhere. While every effort is made to maintain an "in press" interval of six to nine months, authors should be aware that publication dates are contingent on the number and scope of reviewer comments as well as response times during the review process. All submissions other than reviews will be peer-reviewed (blind). Reviews are also encouraged and should concern current (within one to two years) books, magazines, educational video cassettes, or software/CD-ROM.

How to Submit a Work

Authors must submit four paper copies and a 3.5-inch, properly labeled, MS-DOS manuscript disk file formatted in Windows or Mac, WordPerfect 6.0 or higher or Microsoft 5.0 or higher. Use Times Roman or comparable font. Address to Editor, P. O. Box 110810, Building 116, Mowry Road, Gainesville, FL 32611-0810. Include a self-addressed, stamped postcard or envelope if verification of manuscript receipt is desired. Submit photocopies of artwork, tables, or figures. If the article is accepted for publication, original graphic materials may be requested in both paper and disk files. Tables should be received in clearly marked, individually labeled, separate files. (Note: Author is responsible for submitting edit-ready disks. Materials will be returned to the author if significant manipulation of the disk is required, which may affect publication date. Editors are not responsible for rewriting text.) Electronic graphic files should be clearly marked and prepared as TIFF or EPS files. Originals should be good, clean, black copy printed twice the needed size.

Graphic- and photo-image winners in the ACE Critique & Awards Program (CEA) are encouraged to submit their winning entries. All winners should be clearly marked/identified by name and address of the owner and by "return-requested." The journal does not accept responsibility for nonmarked/identified winners. An original will be scanned. Also acceptable is a photo copy. Accompanying text is required: (1) explanation of how and why the image was made; (2) text that accompanied the award image as they appeared in the publication.

All articles should be typed double-spaced. Include a title page listing authors' names and addresses. At the bottom of the title page include a one-paragraph biographical note, listing institutional affiliation, job title, acknowledgment of funding, and ACE membership information. If the article has been presented orally, this should be noted.

Do not include any author identification on inside page text pages. The title page will be removed before the article is submitted for anonymous review to three members of the manuscript review board. Articles should not exceed 15 double-spaced typed pages, excluding literature citations, and a maximum of six tables or figures. Shorter articles are strongly encouraged.

Manuscript Organization

Every article (not reviews) must contain a 100-word informative abstract. Briefly list the purpose, methodology, significant findings, and conclusion. Begin the manuscript text as page 1. Use appropriate subheads to break up the body of the text. List footnotes and literature citations, on separate pages, at the end of the text, along with tables or figures, if used. (Indicate in margins of the text, approximately, where tables/figures should appear.) Include three keywords.

For literature citations, follow the style guidelines in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (Fourth Edition): Use the "author-date" system; that is, insert the surname of the author and the year of publication in the text at the appropriate point: "Smith (1989) found that" or "In recent study (Smith, 1989), findings" Within a paragraph, omit the year in subsequent references as long as the study cannot be confused with other studies cited in the article.

When statistical information is to be reported in an article, the author should contact the lead editor for special guidelines.

Publication Agreement

Copyright: In order for a submitted work to be accepted and published by the Journal of Applied Communications, the author(s) agree to transfer copyright of the work to ACE—this includes full and exclusive rights to the publication in all media now known or later developed, including but not limited to electronic databases, microfilm, and anthologies.

Author Warranties: The author(s) represent(s) and warrants(s): that the manuscript submitted is his/her (their) own work; that the work has been submitted only to this journal and that it has not been previously published; that the article contains no libelous or unlawful statements and does not infringe upon the civil rights of others; that the author(s) is(are) not infringing upon anyone else's copyright. The authors agree that if there is a breach of any of the above representations and warranties that (s)he (they) will indemnify the Publisher and Editor and hold them blameless.

Reprints

Reprints of single articles are available for 25 cents per copy, with a minimum order of 10 copies. Specify article name and issue. Include a check to ACE Headquarters. Postage and handling are included. Purchase orders made out to ACE are accepted for orders of $10.00 or more.
