

9-1-1979

About the authors

Charles E. Litz
Kansas State University

Mary Kahl Sparks
Kansas State University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://newprairiepress.org/edconsiderations>

Part of the Higher Education Commons

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial-Share Alike 4.0 License.

---

Recommended Citation

Litz, Charles E. and Sparks, Mary Kahl (1979) "About the authors," Educational Considerations: Vol. 7: No. 1. <https://doi.org/10.4148/0146-9282.1937>

This Backmatter is brought to you for free and open access by New Prairie Press. It has been accepted for inclusion in Educational Considerations by an authorized administrator of New Prairie Press. For more information, please contact cads@k-state.edu.

About the Authors

Carl S. Johnson teaches at Marshall University. He received his Ph.D. from Kansas State University in 1973.

Robert P. Knight is an associate professor in the School of Journalism, University of Missouri. He is also the Director of the Missouri Interscholastic Press Association. He received his Ph.D. from Missouri in 1968. His experience includes working as the public relations coordinator for the Midland, Texas, Independent School District.

Robert E. Shafer is Director of English Education in the Department of English, Arizona State University at Tempe.

Diann M. Dees is a graduate assistant in the Office of Educational Resources at Kansas State University. She completed a M.S. in Educational Psychology at KSU in 1978. The focus of her studies was college teaching and faculty development.

Jane B. Dunlap received her Ed.D. from The University of Akron this year. Previously she taught in the Community and Technical College of The University of Akron and at The University of Puerto Rico. She has been a communications consultant since 1970. She is now vice-president of Admin/Comm., Inc. based in Kent, Ohio.

Isobel Pfeiffer is a professor in Educational Administration at The University of Akron. In addition to the Development of a Microteaching Laboratory for the use of both undergraduate and graduate students, she has been creatively utilizing videotaping for instruction. In 1978 she was selected for the Creative Staff Development Award from OASCD.

Fred Schultz has been a professor in Educational Foundations at The University of Akron since 1969. At Indiana University he had three major areas of concentration in his graduate studies: History of Education, Philosophy of Education, and American Studies. He has been working in recent years in the areas of historical and philosophical studies in education, multicultural education, and educational policy studies. He is author of Social Philosophical Foundations of Education, joint author with the late James Monroe Hughes of Education in America, Fourth Edition, and Editor of the Dushkin Publishing Group's Annual Editions volume Readings in Education 78/79 and Readings in Education 79/80.

Mary Keaton is a research assistant in the Department of Educational Management and Development, New Mexico State University.

Alvin Keaton is associate professor and Head, Department of Philosophy, New Mexico State University.

Kent A. Laudeman is assistant professor in the Division of Education at Indiana University at South Bend.

Grace E. Holmes and Richard L. Simpson are researchers and teachers with the Department of Pediatrics and Special Education, University of Kansas Medical Center, Kansas City, Kansas.

Lee Ann Britain teaches at the Infant Development Center, Shawnee Mission, Kansas.

Robert V. Supple, is a professor of Education at the University of Maine, Orono. He is Chairman of the Social Studies area and Director of the Doctor of Social Studies Education program and past-Chairman of the Graduate Unit Committee of the College. He was awarded the Ed.B. degree by the State University of New York, the A.M. and the Ph.D. degrees by New York University.