OER Efforts @ UNC

The screenshot shows the Digital UNC website interface. At the top left is the UNC logo and the text "UNIVERSITY OF NORTHERN COLORADO". To the right are navigation links: HOME, ABOUT, FAQ, MY ACCOUNT. Below this is a dark blue banner with the text "Scholarship & Creative Works @ Digital UNC" and "a service of University Libraries", accompanied by an illustration of books and papers. The main content area is divided into several sections: "Browse" with links for Collections, Disciplines, and Authors; "Search" with a search bar, a dropdown menu set to "in this repository", and links for Advanced Search and RSS; "Author Corner" with links for Policies and Guidelines, Author FAQ, Student Submission Form, Project Proposal Form, and Submit Research; "Browse Research and Scholarship" with a "Follow" button and a list of links: All Collections, Student Research, Colleges, Schools, and Departments, Journals and peer-reviewed series, Conferences and Events, and Featured Publications; "At a Glance" with "Top 10 Downloads" (All time) and "Recent Additions" (20 most recent additions, Activity by year); and "Paper of the Day" featuring "McGregor, Rocky Mountain National Park, Colorado" by Phil Robertson. At the bottom, there is a "Reader from:" section showing a location in Mcalester, Oklahoma, United States, and a "Staff Perceptions and Experiences at a Residential Treatment Center" by Miranda Ochoa. A footer at the bottom left repeats the UNC logo and "University Libraries".
