Community Organizing for Grocery Stores and Rural Food Access

FEAST
Food Education Agriculture Solutions Together

The Fourth National Rural Grocery Summit
June 9, 2014
VISION: We envision communities across Oregon and SW Washington where citizens are empowered and actively engaged across sectors to attain personal and community food security.

Three approaches:
• Community FEAST
• RARE Community Food Assessment Partnership
• Food Systems Networking
Resilience is the opposite of vulnerability.

Resilient food systems can withstand political, economic, social and environmental shocks.

Resilient individuals, households and communities are less vulnerable to changes in fortune that push others into food insecurity.
FEAST was developed as a response to the need to help communities move to action around community food systems work.

These events are organized by a local steering committee and feature local organizations.

A FEAST convenes a conversation that leads to a self-determined organizing plan for food systems work in the community.

Currently, OFB staff serve as facilitators, provide suggestions, feedback and support, but do not direct the outcomes.
What happens at a FEAST?

- Stories are shared from the local food system.
- Themes and solutions from other communities are shared.
- Local themes and solutions are identified and priorities are set.
- Work groups are established and Organizing Plans created.

Community driven FEAST outcomes have included:
- New farmers’ markets • Increased SNAP & WIC acceptance
- New/Expanded community gardens • New donors for food banks
- Additional Nutrition/Gardening Education events
• FEAST – 4-5 hour event

• Community Conversations – Shorter conversation over a meal.

• Hunger Free Communities – Directed at better organizing hunger relief efforts

• Long Term Priority Planning – Follow-up planning to CFAs
IMPACT

• 70+ events to date engaging over 2000 people

• Replicable model- being implemented in 6 states beyond Oregon

• Shown to increase community connections among participants

• 30+% of participants are food producers

• Program nationally recognized by Feeding America’s 2013 Innovation Awards

FEAST engages a broad spectrum of the community to create self-determined organizing plans.

FEAST NETWORK ANALYSIS RESULTS

Thicker lines are stronger connections
Results & Conclusions

• 19 FEASTs included in evaluation; 11 with enough valid surveys for network analysis
• Five FEASTS with statistically significant increases in connection strength
• Eight FEASTS with an average number of new connections over 1.00
• FEAST attendees make new connections with like-minded community members
• Existing connections are significantly strengthened in many communities
• Participation in follow-up activities varies among FEAST locations; recommendation to collect further evidence of follow-up

SUSTAINING RURAL COMMUNITIES

RURAL GROCERY STORES

WHY?

• Rural Economic Development
  – Jobs. On avg. 5 full-time, 5 part-time

• Access to Food
  – 1/5 in rural areas are food insecure
  – 41 miles from nearest discount grocery

• Social Hub
  – “Without the local grocery store, many rural towns won’t survive

oregonfoodbank.org
Food Access in Rural Oregon

“The two things I’ve noticed, in order for there to be a town, is a grocery store and a school. If you’re missing one or both of those things, you’re not going to have a town – people will leave.”

-Chester’s Thriftway, John Day

“I have to go once a week to buy fresh produce in town, also the stuff we cannot get from those vendors we go to town to Winco, Costco, etc…”

– Harbick’s Country Store, Blue River

“Lots of elderly can’t access food...small communities need grocery stores.”

– Mill City Market

“I could buy whiskey, cigarettes, and gamble within walking distance of my house, but I cannot buy foodstuffs.”

– Mike E., rural Josephine County resident

“Not enough money to meet requirements for trucks to deliver and not enough space for full truck loads.”

– Long Creek Café
Challenges for Rural Stores

- Minimum Purchasing Requirements
- Product Delivery
- Stocking fresh produce
- High operations costs
- Slim profit margins
- Availability of satisfactory labor
